The National Sustainable Schools Conference 2011

THE ONLINE CONFERENCE

Date: 21st October – 2nd December 2011

Venue: Online

Join in with the UK's biggest sustainable schools conference wherever you are by logging onto the National Sustainable Schools Online Conference. Share and support with other teachers around your own schedule, and take away resources, ideas and new contacts.

Our six-week online conference on sustainable schools brings together leading speakers, ideas and resources. Delegates take away practical strategies from educators and schools on how to get creative with embedding sustainability on your campus, in your curriculum or in engaging the community.

Students state that they want to learn more about how to live and think more sustainably at school. See how engaging in sustainability can save your school money, encourage more motivated students, lead to improved outcomes and prepare them better for their futures.
